Copyright © 2021. The Stationery Office Ltd. All rights reserved.

Contents

List of figures and tables

About the author

Foreword 1

Foreword 2

Preface

Acknowledgements

1 Where to start

1.1 The ITIL guiding principles
1.2 Continual improvement
1.3 Disruption and innovation – learn, unlearn, and relearn
1.4 Continual improvement as a practice
1.5 Organizational change management in action
1.6 In summary

2 ITIL – it's not just about IT

2.1 The changing role of IT
2.2 Why ITIL isn't just IT
2.3 ITIL and the enterprise
2.4 The ITIL service value system
2.5 The four dimensions
2.6 In summary

3 Defining values

3.1 Personal values
3.2 Organizational values
3.3 In summary

4 Balancing organizational perspectives

4.1 Organizational governance
4.2 Ethics
4.3 Agility
4.4 Leadership
4.5 Culture
4.6 In summary

5 Balancing supplier perspectives

5.1 Engagement
5.2 Collaboration
5.3 Supplier governance
5.4 In summary

Limited, TSO. Co-creating value in organisations with ITIL 4, The Stationery Office Ltd, 2021. ProQuest Ebook Central, http://ebookcentral.proquest.com/lib/wallonie-ebooks/detail.action?docID=6820010.
Created from wallonie-ebooks on 2022-03-04 17:51:16.

Copyright © 2021. The Stationery Office Ltd. All rights reserved.

6 Co-creating value with customers

6.1 The evolution of ITIL
6.2 Innovation
6.3 Viability
6.4 ITIL 4 and the customer journey
6.5 Outcomes
6.6 In summary

7 Creating value through knowledge

7.1 Knowledge management
7.2 Defining the value of knowledge
7.3 Using knowledge to achieve a balance
7.4 Knowledge and the value of tools
7.5 In summary

8 The value of reporting

8.1 Representative reporting
8.2 Operational reporting
8.3 The watermelon effect
8.4 Balancing quality with quantity
8.5 C-level information
8.6 Affecting value through commentary
8.7 In summary

9 Practice makes perfect

9.1 The real world
9.2 Thinking outside the trenches
9.3 Practices – a case study
9.4 Proof-of-concept services
9.5 Value-based decisions
9.6 In summary

10 The value of peeking under the cover

10.1 Measuring success
10.2 Fragile services
10.3 Balancing dependencies
10.4 A fragile case study (personal story)
10.5 In summary

11 One language

12 The end – or just the beginning?

Glossary

Further research

Limited, TSO. Co-creating value in organisations with ITIL 4, The Stationery Office Ltd, 2021. ProQuest Ebook Central, http://ebookcentral.proquest.com/lib/wallonie-ebooks/detail.action?docID=6820010.
Created from wallonie-ebooks on 2022-03-04 17:51:16.